Reflections 1981-1982
Volume XIV*

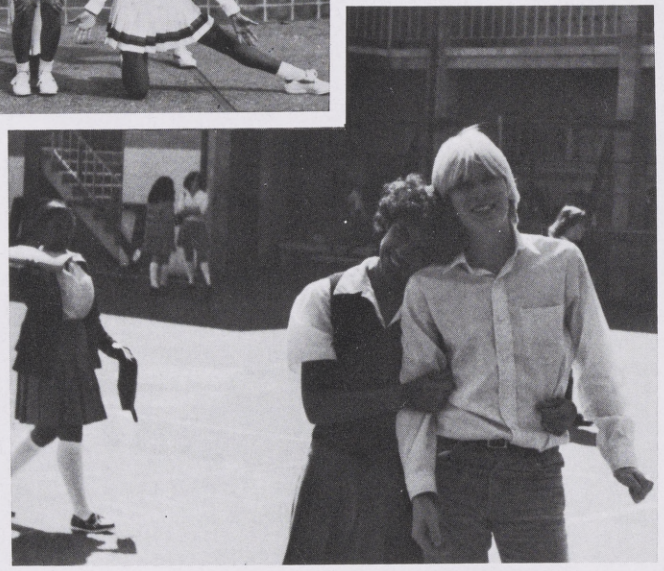

Each day in our school, home, and social lives, we are faced with reality—facts, figures, and decisions. When dealing in this concrete world however, there is always something which helps us to reflect on the past and strive to achieve in the future. This driving force is just as important to our daily lives as reality. It is a goal, a wish, a dream. It is

A FANTASY

If you can dream—and not make dreams your master

If you can think—and not make thoughts your aim

If you can meet with Triumph and Disaster And treat those two imposters just the same

• • • •

*If you can fill the unforgiving minute With sixty seconds'
worth of distance run,*

Yours is the Earth and all that's in it, And—which is more—you'll be a Man, my son! R. Kipling

As students sit in plain desks and stare at chalk filled boards, their minds float into a world of fantasy. Soon they see their teachers before them, either throwing chalk at other teachers or cracking "different" jokes. The room is suddenly a dream with teachers playing the parts.

Systematic Support

Marge Taylor—S.J. secretary

The encouragement of fantasy is a beautiful, wonderful and indeed vital part of any effective high school. Without the calm, efficient and very real efforts of secretaries though, the students and staff alike would be dismally lost. Always cheerful and spirited, our fantastic secretaries successfully filed, phoned and announced their way through a hectic year. Fantasy is a truly lovely idea but it must be balanced with the tangible and dependable—with people like Alice Hickey, Arbie Gorman and Marge Taylor, our secretaries.

Pleased to Give

The fine work of this year's Parent-Teacher Guild, led by Mrs. Helen Chaix and Mr. John Babjak, moved a grateful junior to write,

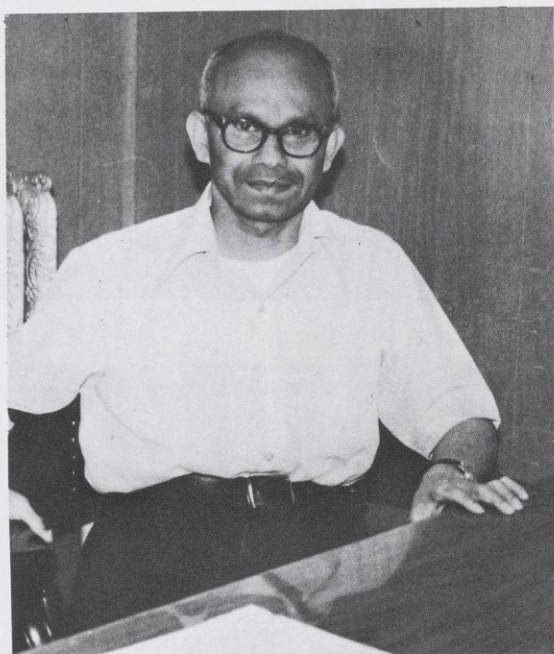

PTG

Being their children—
Being their students—

the teachers

Share their ideas; their concern to build castles in the air,
to fill hollows with the sun,
and to unite complements
for us

Gratitude for Guidance

An integral part of our education—and unique to Catholic schools—is our special rapport with our parish and faculty priests. While Father Burns and Monsignor Donovan guided us in the classroom. Our pastor, Monsignor Wagner, and the parish priests, Father Kegel and Father Gracias taught us by example that our work, like theirs, is God's work.

A TIMELY THOUGHT ON THE THEME

Fantasy is measured by unreality. The more unreal a scene or a screen the more fantastic it is. Yet its content is described in terms that are limited to images that are very limited, such as size, color, sound or taste.

The imagination can also picture a kaleidoscopic hodge-podge that lacks unity, cohesion and emphasis. Fantasy generally is earth-bound and so limited in its content.

Fantasy is challenged by Saint Paul who exclaimed, "Eye has not seen, ear has not heard, nor has it entered into the heart of man the things that God has prepared for those who love Him".

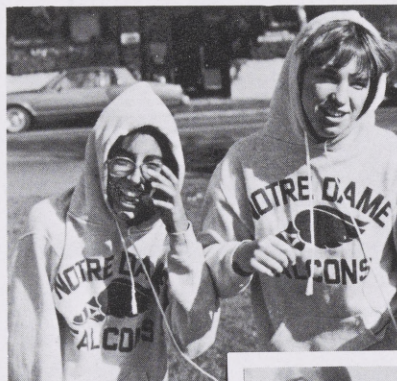

Such is the reality of heaven that can and should motivate us to seek the Kingdom of God and His justice and to have all things added. What beauty, what happiness! This is Paradise!

Being a freshman is not an easy task as most of us know, but this year's freshmen were good sports. They ignored all of those "poor little freshmen" jokes and desperately tried to get to class on time. To show all of the Little Freshmen how much we really cared, we devoted a whole week just to making them feel at home. During that week, the freshmen were pampered, praised, and gladly accepted into the school family.

Just as the poor "ugly duckling" matured into a beautiful swan, so do freshmen undergo a miraculous transformation. The Class of '85 arrived fresh, new faces starting a fresh year with new dilemmas. What terrible trials they encountered in overcoming shyness and adjusting to a new routine. Fortunately, they were preceded by others wiser in the ways of the world of adolescence.

Supporting their fellow sophomores in all endeavors, presidents Deena Celada and Steve Reiser did an excellent job of representing their class. Dreaming of unicorns and chasing rainbows, the Class of '84 enjoyed their sophomore year. Free of the burden of being the new kids on the block, the sophomores took full charge of their new and somewhat prestigious office. Indeed they were quick witted and always took advantage of the opportunity to show just how brilliant they really were. To many sophomores, leaving the lowly freshman position was truly a fantasy made into a reality.

Sophs Earn "Fame"

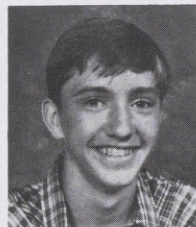

Screaming and cheering as loudly as they could, the sophomores showed how much spirit they really had. Along with the big change from "freshmanship" to "sophomorality" came many additional changes, some of which concerned their class colors and mascot. The sophomores proved how creative they really were when they walked away with the award for the best skit and achieved the "Fame" they sought.

Sophs Exhibit Maturity

Faced with the problem of proving themselves to the upperclassmen, the sophomores managed to pull together and amaze the stupefied juniors and seniors. It wasn't easy, but the sophomores showed that they had grown up over the summer and were ready for some seriousness. Although the sophomores matured a great deal, they were often as wild and crazy as ever.

With the leadership of presidents Guille Quintero and Philip Sandri, the Class of '83 was successfully united in activities. The juniors were more willing than ever to make the school year a memorable one. With home-room representatives always ready to hear new ideas, the juniors were able to make their dreams realities. Let's hope their senior year will be just as successful.

For the third time, the Class of '83 found itself immersed in a new year of high school life. Along with their class rings and drivers' licenses, the Juniors acquired a new sense of responsibility. Now upperclassmen, with more challenging classes, they began to think of the future. Signs of maturity were evident as the Junior class grew closer, working together in order to make their wishes come true.

The junior class vowed to "make it on Broadway" during spirit week. With Steve Babjak and Jackie Giron serving as master and mistress of ceremonies, the class of '83 presented the 83rd annual Tony Awards. The plays nominated for this prestigious "Tony" award were: "West Side Story", "The Wiz", and "South Pacific". The award, actually Tony Ratto, was nominally given to "The Wiz", but in the end each play was a winner.

The spirit of the juniors shone in their colors—red and yellow—and the Jaguars roared with pride as they received their trophies for sportsmanship and stunts. Way to go, Juniors!

The class of '83 has taken great strides toward unity this year. The large size of the junior class has made it difficult for the juniors to work together in the past. Now in their third year, they have learned through trial and error that they are able to cooperate successfully.

ACTIVITIES

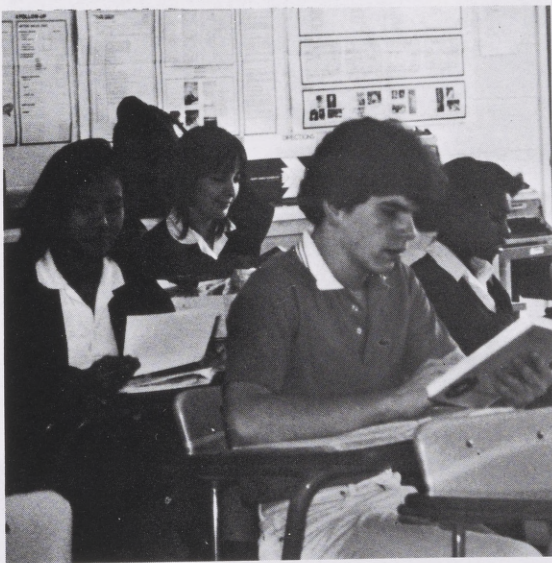

ACTIVITIES

Center of Activity

Giving their full support, the members of the Student Council put forth their best effort to make this year great. Leading the way were presidents Pam Augustine and Hugo Menendez, and vice presidents John Crestitto and Joan Javier. Keeping tight reins on our money were Mike Pola and Crystal Lee. Other important officers were secretaries Kathy Bellusa and Steve Babjak. Activities coordinator Lisa Lockwood and athletic manager Mary Kinney provided extra-cirricular activities that allowed for a sometimes necessary break from studies.

Creative Arts Introduce

With the guidance of creative arts teachers Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Dowling, Miss Gabelman and Ms. Vlahos, freshmen learn the fundamentals of music, drama, dance and art. Thanks to creative arts, each freshman is given a chance to grow into a well educated, well-rounded student.

We Worship

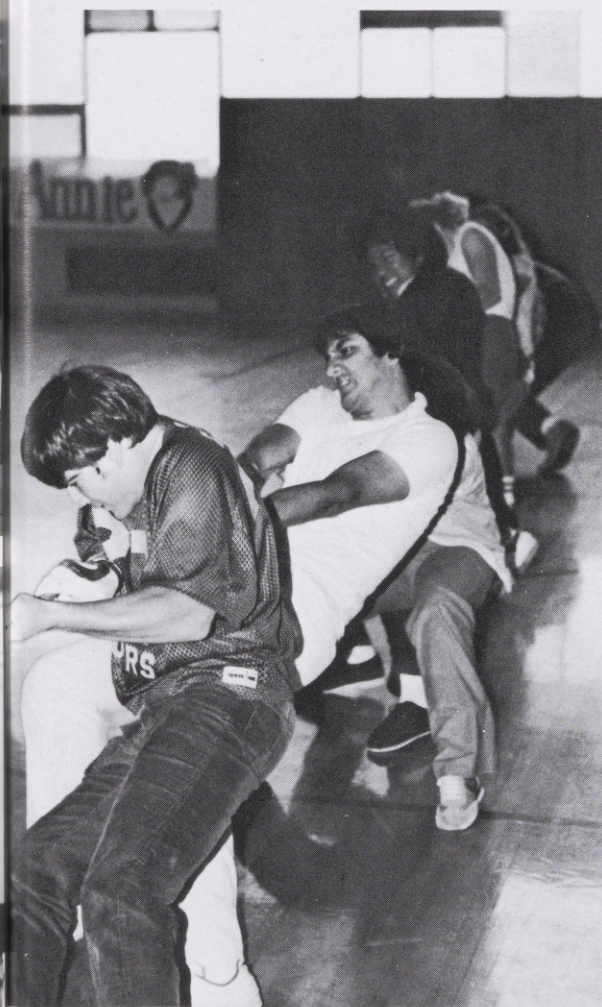

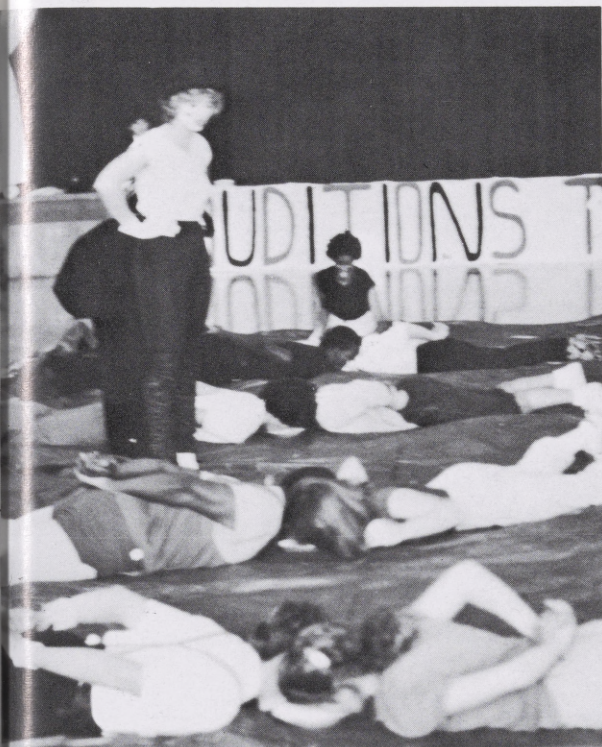

A large body of students,
Together for a brief moment
To share the celebration of the Mass
To sit,
To stand,
To kneel,
Before the one Almighty,
As they have done for a hundred years.

On Broadway

Persevering and practicing like true Broadway performers, all classes gracefully met the challenge of spirit week. Long hours of work decorating and planning, faces covered with pie and throats aching from screaming were not all in vain. Trophies awarded were skit, given to the sophomores; stunts and sportsmanship, earned by the juniors; and parade, decorations and grand prize, captured by the seniors. The Freshmen were also a vital, spirited part of this fantastic week.

ANNUAL TRIVIA AWARDS

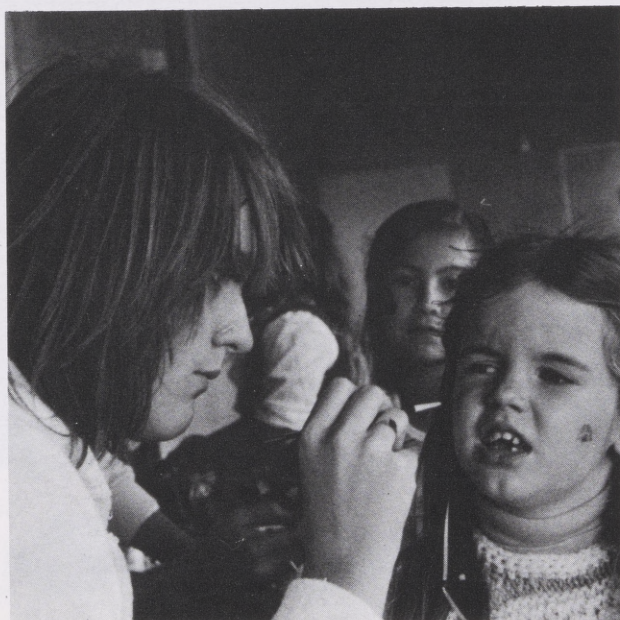

Fun In the Sun

The new school year, routine though it may have appeared, was enlivened by a fabulous festival of fun—the school picnic. Sophomores, juniors, seniors, and yes, even a few freshmen showed their bright, shining faces and made the picnic a truly memorable occasion. Activities ranged from the all time favorite egg toss to a game of the ever popular volleyball. Indeed the picnic was enjoyed by all including the faculty and was a genuine success.

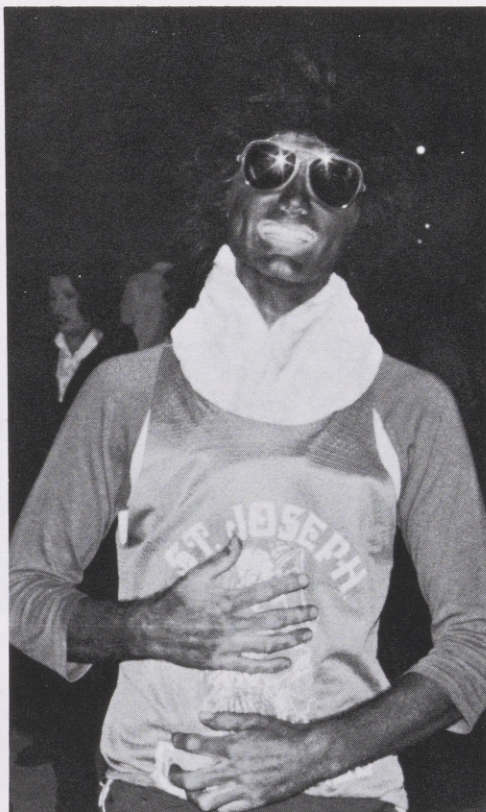

More Fun In '81

Devoted to raising money for the three schools and making sure that everyone had a good time, El Rancho Day kicked off the school year. There were various booths, ranging from the Plant Booth to the always popular Cake Booth. Prizes of every kind, including lovable teddy bears and fattening delicious baked goods, were in abundance. The pleasant weather allowed for a large attendance. El Rancho Day was a true success in every possible way.

Chow Time!

Notorious for its fun filled activities, lunch was a time to relax and prepare for the last two periods of the day. With the seniors off somewhere due to their off campus privilege, the freshmen, sophomores and juniors were faced with the task of entertaining themselves.

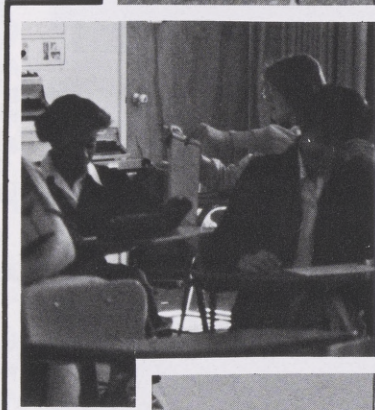

Dance the Night Away

No matter what the occasion, school dances always provided students with a change of scenery. Where else but at the Halloween dance could you rub elbows with a medfly? On what occasion other than the Valentine's dance could you behold a heart-studded hall? And how many Fete d'Hivers (besides the Winter Ball) have you attended? All in all, dances provided spectacular settings and exotic, enjoyable evenings.

Oh no! A deadline!!!

Putting in extra hours and working as a team, the members of the yearbook staff struggled to meet each deadline. Led by moderator Mrs. Dana Barnett and editor Cathy Foster, the yearbook staff put their hearts and souls into each word and every page. Even with all the long hours and hard work, the staff members had a lot of fun putting the 1981-1982 yearbook together.

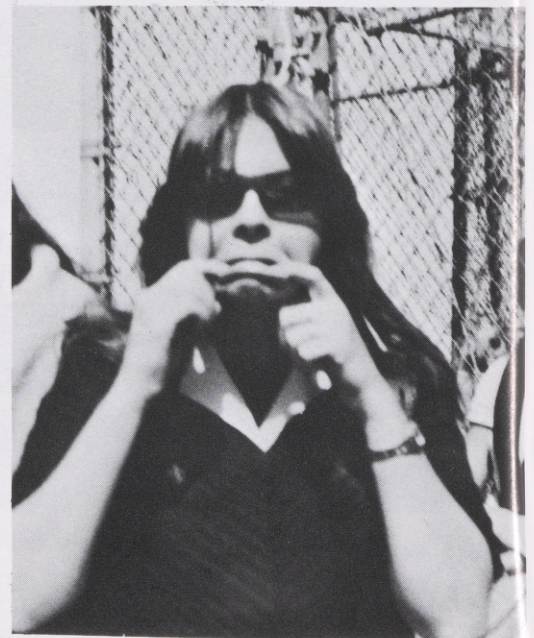

"Kaleidoscope" continued to improve in 1981-82 as it evolved into a fresher, more interesting example of journalistic enterprise here at our two schools.

With a class of 31, the newspaper staff was able to publish as frequently as twice a month. "The numbers and the talent of this year's staff allowed us to improve both the quality and the quantity of the paper," said moderator Miss Christine Micheli. "I hope that these improvements were noticed by the student body as well."

Extra! Extra!

Cultural Exchange

Adding a bit of culture to everyone's life, the members of the Spanish club introduced a new world to many students. Led by moderator Ms. Castellanos and president Jon Estelita, they helped to create a finer knowledge and appreciation of Spanish traditions. The club made the year a fantastic one with their burrito sales, mass and posada. We all owe the members of this club a heartfelt "Gracias" for their efforts.

For the members of the Mission Club, helping those in need came before their own ambitions. These students, along with their moderator, Sr. Elizabeth Mary, labored unselfishly, always with the interests of others ahead of their own. They also prompted others to become involved through daily collections for third-world countries and spiritual support

In Times of Need . . .

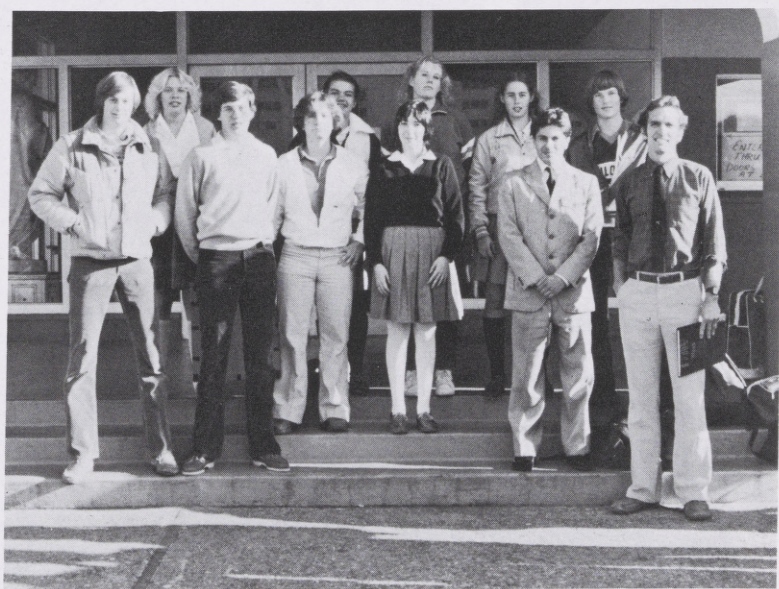

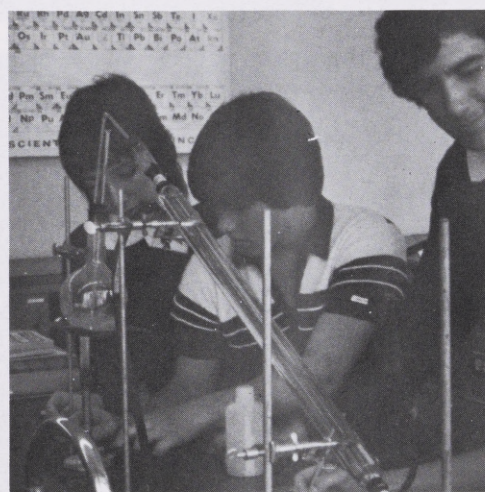

Artists Anonymous

After a hiatus of a few years, the art club at St. Joseph's Notre Dame is now in full swing thanks to its moderator, Joan Gableman who said, "The students here have a keen eye for art and a real talent for its expression. The art club gives them a chance to become familiar with unique styles and forms of art." Through fund raisers, projects, and hard work, "Artists Anonymous", as they have named themselves, have re-decorated the art room decorated for dances, lettered yearbook pages, and still found time for fun.

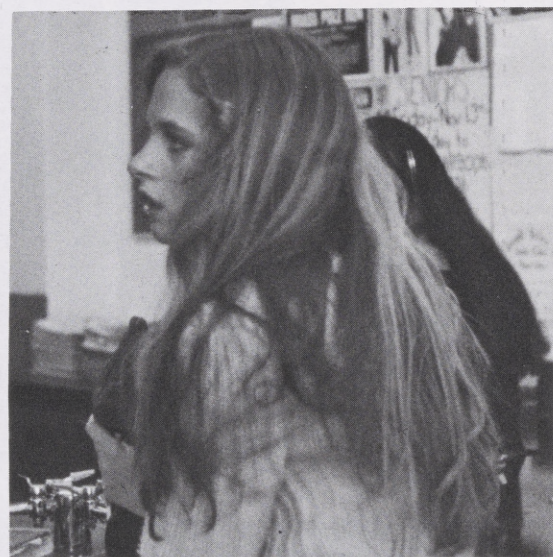

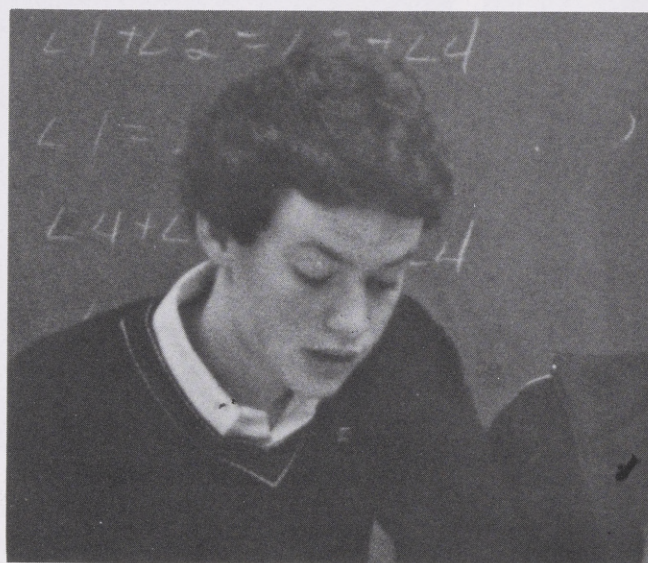

Looking at ease with their sunglasses, and enduring chilling weather, the members of the Alpine Club slalomed through the year. Led by moderator, Mr. Coakley, these students were gladly snow bound. Their intent was to relax, get away and enjoy great weather, and that's no Snow-Job!

Proving their theory that learning can be fun, the members of the science club had an enjoyable year. With the help of moderator, Mr. Coakely, they made many discoveries and helped to balance work and play. Excursions included a visit to the Lawrence Hall of Science as well as whale watching.

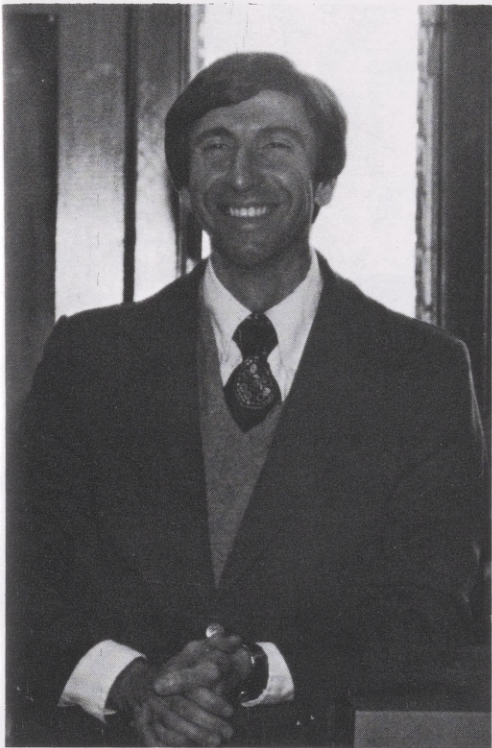

Biology and Boreal

Vous Nous Excusons!

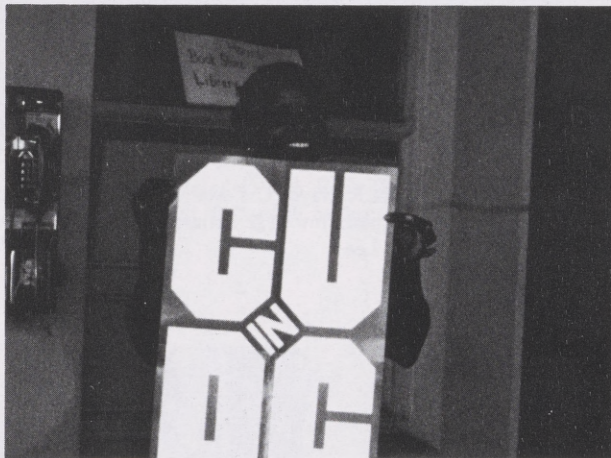

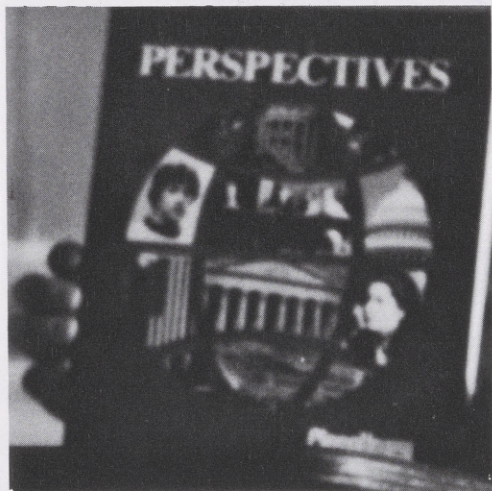

Yearbook staff offers apologies to the French Club for neglecting to take their picture. Moderator, Madame Susan Abrami, and president, Mademoiselle Jennifer Cobb guided the group through barrette sales, crissant sales, and a Lenten bread-and-cheese luncheon to raise the francs for their Francophile fantasy--a Paris-style night on the town. We regret that this energetic group is not pictured in or book.

N.D. Close-Up participants; Randie Miller, Pertrice Harris and Sonia Montero.

C.U. in D.C.

Anticipating sight-seeing in Washington D.C., anxious to meet real life Congressmen, and hoping for a glimpse of the President, 8 eager students embarked on an exciting venture. Five St. Joseph's students accompanied by Mr. Aiello and three Notre Dame students, along with Mrs. Valle, participated in the Close-Up program. They were introduced to the wonderful world of government where they tried to fathom such miraculous concepts as balanced budgets.

CSF/NHS Eagerly Serve

Members of the California Scholarship Federation, under the direction of moderators Sr. Catherine Teresa and Mr. Goldman, gave of themselves to help others. These students, all holding a GPA of at least 3.5, willingly performed community services, tutored, and inspired the rest of us to follow their example of scholarship and service.

Another type of service was offered by members of the National Honor Society. These students were actively involved in their communities and yet, managed to maintain a GPA of at least 3.25. Led by moderators Sr. Mary Elizabeth and Mr. Goldman, they exemplified true dedication and selflessness.

Falcon Fitness

"Take me out to the Ball game!" was the wish of coach Cathy Davis' Notre Dame softball team. Chosen from 35 girls who tried out, these capable 14 Falcons worked with Mr. Coakley to get in shape before their season began on March 20. Although running, batting practice, and fitness exercises resulted in tired, aching muscles, the resulting season was worth it all.

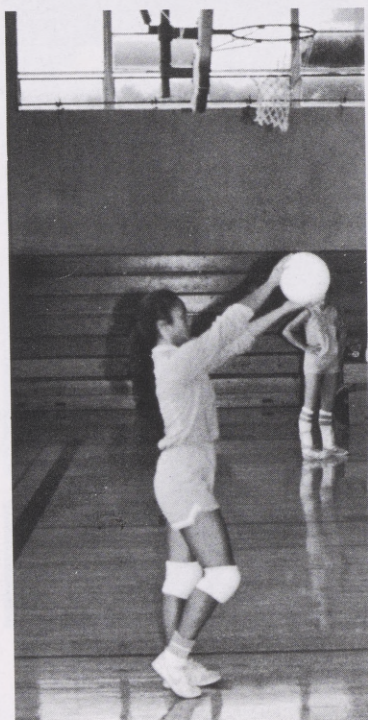

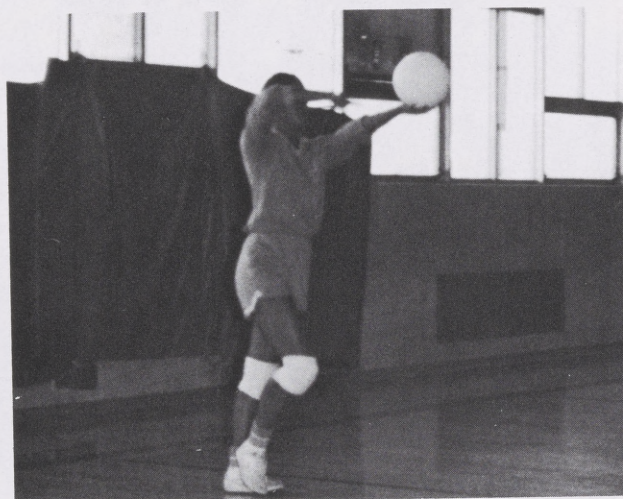

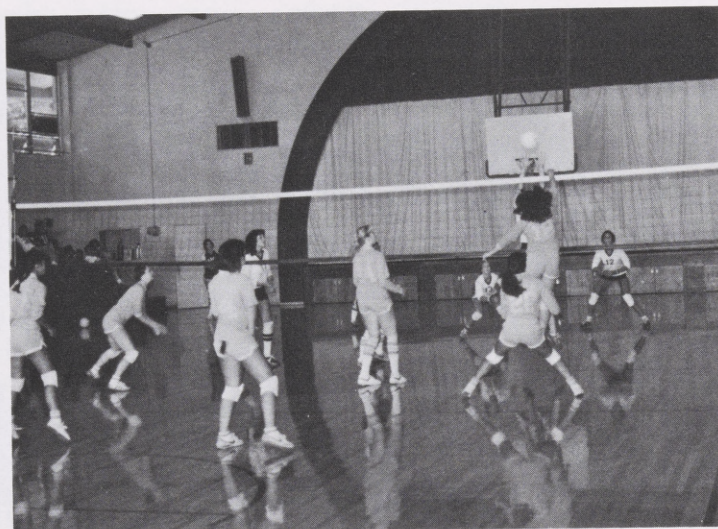

With the support of Mrs. Gail Rodrigues and Athletic Director Mary Kinney, the GAA enjoyed a prosperous year. Between shooting baskets, jumping rope, and running bases, these energetic girls sold Tupperware and managed the concessions at basketball games. They also saved many of us from starvation with their lifesaving morning doughnut sale.

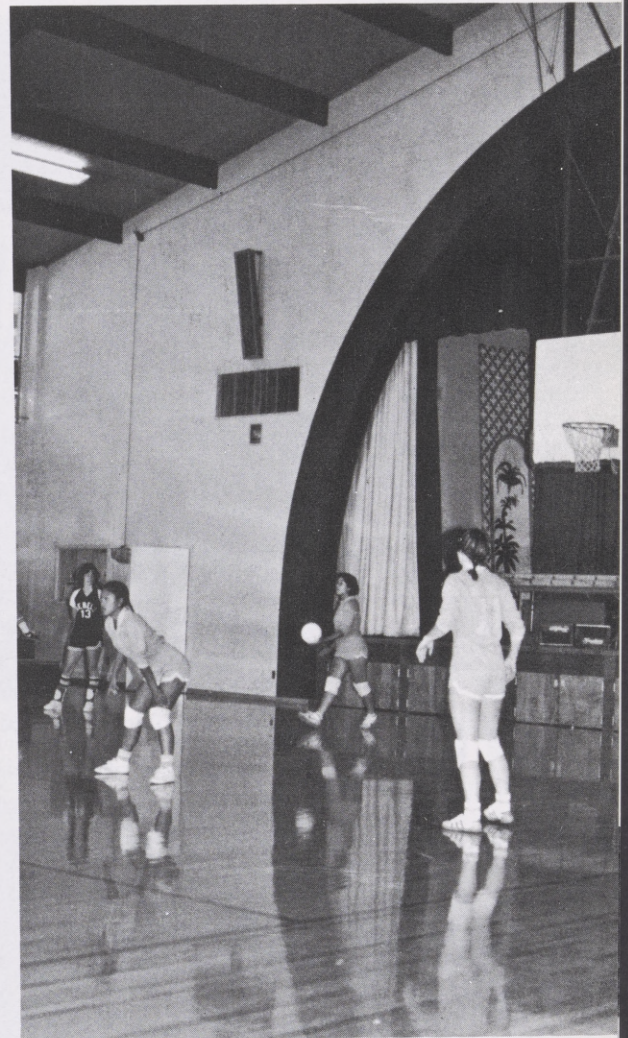

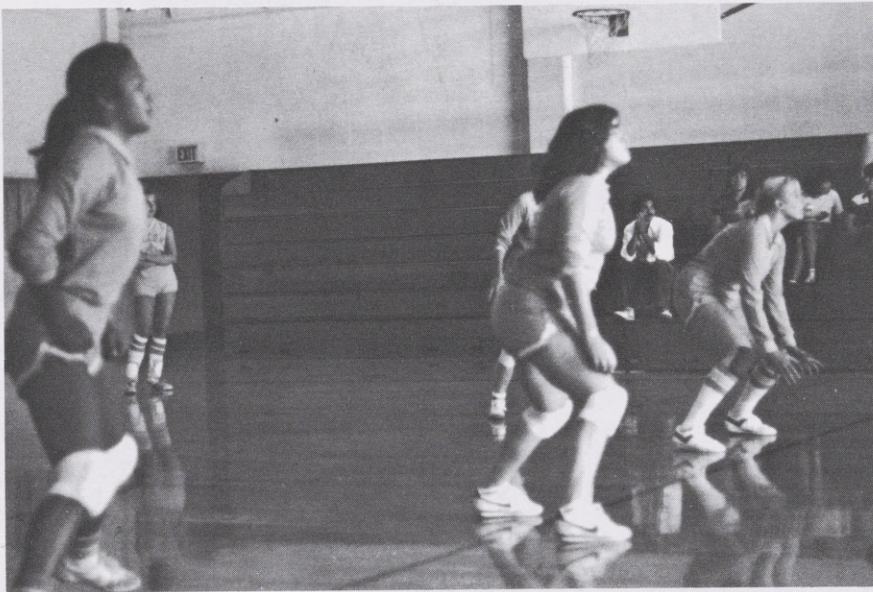

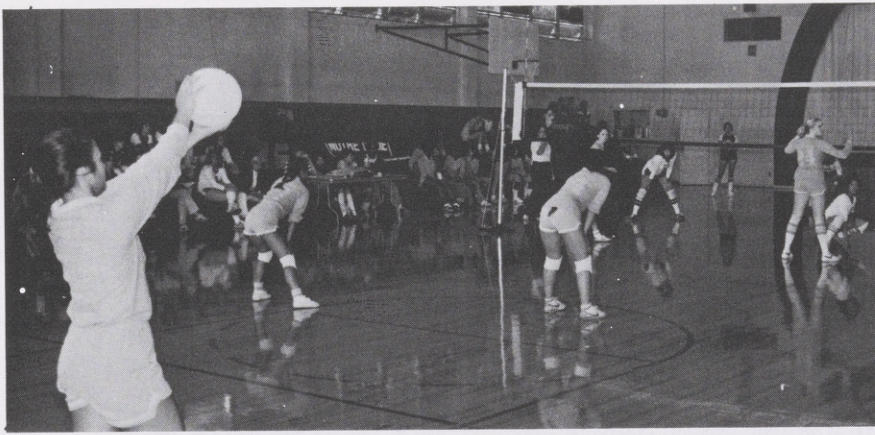

Money Makers

Ready, "Set", Go!

Jumping, diving and spiking just to hit the ball, this year's Junior Varsity and Varsity Volleyball teams strained, stretched, bumped and set until their arms were ready to fall off. But did they mind? No, and why not? Because they were playing to win and winning for our school. Although they didn't always win, they had fun, due to the inspiration of one uninhibited team member who boosted the team's morale with cheers. But winning or losing, the Falcons were truly supported by their dedicated coach, Maitland Elderts.

Members of the J.V. Volleyball team; Mary Jane Manuel, Theresa Tranquillitsky, Eileen O'Neill, Ann Greathouse, and (front row) Judy Quittman, Roan Natac and Crystal Lee.

Pilots/Falcons Run Wild

Carefully blending old and new was a successful prescription for this year's Cross Country team. By adding some newcomers from every division to an already strong core of senior veteran runners, Coach Jack Coakley's harriers posted their best overall record in years. Led by senior Captains Ann Rozowski and John Sanders. The Pilots and Falcons continued their usual winning ways. Their goal was to make winning a way of life. That they did as the team, composed of experienced veterans and a surprising group of rookies, recorded one of their best marks ever.

Better Than "Billy Ball"

Mr. Chris Sims and his Pilot "sluggers" looked forward to a victorious season guided by the words of Gerald Beaumont: "Baseball is a peculiar profession, possibly the only one which capitalizes on a boyhood pleasure, unfits the athlete for any other career, keeps him young in mind and spirit, and then rejects him as too old before he has yet attained the prime of life."

Disproving the belief that sports are extinct in the spring, the Pilots golf and tennis teams vigorously got into the swing of things. Practicing long hours on courts and courses, team members proved their talents in the world of "Gentlemen's sports".

The few spectators showing support did not daunt the spirit of the players as they continued to keep the name and reputation of St. Joseph in the lime-light.

While the well-cheered basketball players rested, these athletes dedicated their time and energy to perfecting their "gentlemen's sports". In so doing, these "gentlemen" did us proud!

Let's Get "Crewed"!

The 1982 season marked a continuation of the tradition of excellence that has come to represent the SJ/ND crew team. Competing as part of the Oakland Strokes Rowing Club, the team has been the schools' most successful athletic enterprise over the last five years. Said "crewed" freshman Toby Anderson, "Our success is led by the excellent efforts of John Anderson and Bob Maclean, whose great attitudes and competitive success we try to imitate."

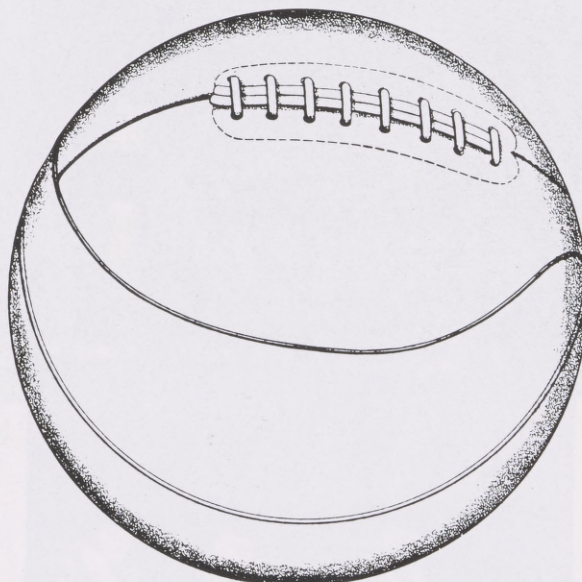

Under the direction of Coach Cathy Davis, the twelve girls who made up this year's basketball squad gave their all. Despite a slow start, the Falcons kept long hours of dedication and discipline, leaned from their errors and kept their spirits soaring.

Dedicated Dribblers

Rah, Rah, Rah!

Cheerleaders: Tina Chavez, Laura Wright, Jill Pellitteri, Vicki Lopez Margie Pickett, Lisa Lockwood and Cathy Campbell.

A great source of support for the basketball team was the cheerleaders. Led by Jill Pelleteri and Elsie Sniffen these spirited girls boosted the team's morale as well as encouraging the spectators. Three cheers for the cheerleaders and their moderator Mrs. Heller! Their enthusiasm and zest were essential elements in the Pilot's success.

Frosh Basketball

Coach Dennis Young and the 1981-'82 Freshman Pilots

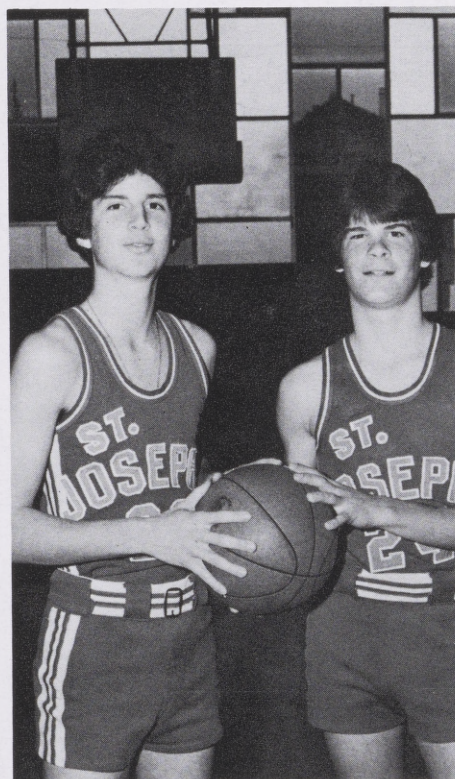

Under the direction of coach Dennis Young, the members of the Frosh basketball team always gave thier "best shot". The Youngest Pilots had spectators up in the air with their exciting, suspense-filled plays. It is evident that they are destined for great things and will be successful in their guest for the ultimate status of Varsity players

Although the 1981-82 Saint Joseph J.V. basketball squad's league record hovered around .500 throughout the season, Coach Marvin Vitatoe's team achieved successes above and beyond their record of victories and defeats. Led by high-scoring center Freddy Powell, the squad worked hard and gave opponents a season of close, hard-fought games.

When highly successful coach Frank La Porte came to S.J. this year he inherited a team on the verge of success. The most optimistic predictions were realized with the Pilots' season record of 20-6. A C.A.L. mark of 12-2 earned them a top ten Eastbay ranking. At home, the cagers' record of 8-0 was the result of victories over fierce opponents Bishop O'Dowd (61-59) and St. Elizabeth's (90-81). In short, Coach LaPorte's welcome was a warm one.

This One's For You

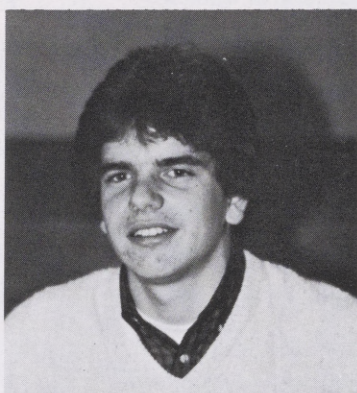

The members of the 1981-1982 Reflections staff feel that the efforts of their patient, supportive moderator should not go unrewarded. Consequently, we would like to thank her; Mrs. Barnett, exhibiting the patience of a saint, edited boring copy, kept the staff calm in times of crisis and was always there to listen to the problems of her editors. In addition, we would like to make amends for omitting her name from last year's book; MRS. BARNETT—OUR YEARBOOK MODERATOR!!

We Quit!

Thanks

This year, the REFLECTIONS staff chose the theme of "Fantasy" because it was our hope to help you look back on your high school dreams as well as your teachers, friends, and work. While it may seem difficult to compare work and fantasy, we have learned in these four years that it is effort that makes our dreams come true.

Without this kind of effort, we could not have produced the 1982 yearbook, and for this we owe special thanks to many. First of all I would like to thank Mrs. Barnett, our moderator; Steve Babjak, Randie Miller, Randy Eugenio, Rosemary Hayes, and Donna Short, my editorial board; and Mr. Wyne, the Herff-Jones representative, for putting up with extra hours, rushed deadlines, and a temperamental editor.

For Miss Gabelman who helped with the art work and Mrs. Dowling who donated pictures when we were in desperate need, for the artists—especially Carol Orille—who gave us their talents, and for the support we received from Mrs. Chaix and the Notre Dame P.T.G., we are very grateful. At this point, we thank all of our Patrons as well:

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Cronin
Joan Foster
Mr. and Mrs. Harry T. Holgerson, Jr.
Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Sanger
Inna Zdan

Finally, a special thank you goes to the faithful staff members who wrote, typed, cropped, and fitted during many Monday afternoons to make this book possible.

Without each of these people, the finished product could not be as we dreamed it. Without them, we would not be able, through this book, to cherish our fond REFLECTIONS of our wonderful, magical, high school dreams and FANTASIES!
